AdriaMont INSTITUTE

FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contributor Guidelines

How selected experts can contribute courses, books, lectures, and resources.

Written for adult professionals and curious learners.

Guidelines for experts who would like to contribute.

AUDIENCE	Contributors, partners, invited experts

What AdriaMont may accept

- Structured digital courses and short courses.
- Books, learning guides, and practical expert materials.
- Lectures, seminars, and recorded sessions.
- Templates, checklists, case materials, and applied resources.
- Free or commercial products, depending on quality and fit.

Contributor standards

- Clear expertise, authorship, and professional credibility.
- Useful learning design and adult learning orientation.
- Evidence-aware claims and transparent limits.
- No unauthorized copyrighted content, private data, or unlicensed third-party materials.
- Willingness to adapt materials to the AdriaMont visual and pedagogical standard.

Review process

01 Initial topic and fit review.

02 Sample material or outline review.

03 Quality, privacy, and rights screening.

04 Learning design adaptation.

05 Publication decision and format agreement.

Read these guidelines before proposing a contribution.